

Student Council Votes To Back Send A Daily To Camp' Campaign; Campus Signs Under Consideration

One hundred per cent support of the Spartan Daily "Send A Daily To Camp" campaign was voted by the Student Council at its meeting in the Student Union last night.

The Council is the first active group to contribute to the fund. Individual donations also have been received.

In conjunction with the "Daily" drive, the Council moved to sponsor a conference of delegates from campus organizations and faculty to carry out ideas for recreational activities of soldiers. The idea originated from the Sophomore Council. Allen Isaksen, sophomore, was chosen head of a committee to take charge. Rex Gardner and Dave Atkinson, Council member, will work with him.

1942 REVELRIES

Original songs will be used in the 1942 production of Revelries, the Council decided last night. Students interested in assisting the faculty director with the music or the drama, can send names to the Council by Monday. A stage manager also will be selected.

Next year's show will be run the same as in previous years with the exception of the aid of a faculty director.

The Council moved to loan the Music department 100 flashlights to be used by the band. President Don True, Dave Atkinson, and Dean Paul Pitman were selected to see Adolph Otterstein about band uniforms.

IDENTIFICATION SIGNS

Three possibilities for identification signs were put before the Council last night. One is an all-metal sign, another is a sand-blasted wooden sign, and a third is a wooden sign, sand blasted, covered with metal. Bob Hamill was named chairman and Lois Silver his assistant, to get prices on each.

A telegram sent by Fred Warner asked if San Jose State college still desired to have an original college song written.

Tentative date for the Spardl was set for May 1.

No "gripe" organization dinner will be held this quarter, but Peg-McDonald was put in charge of next quarter's affair.

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Instead of having a full week given over to finals this quarter, examinations will only fill the last four days of school. All instructors are required to give exams unless specified by the final examination committee.

The following examination schedule has been released for fall finals:

Miss Lawson has completed her preparation work for the convention. She is yet uncertain whether or not she will attend.

'Daily' Fund Drive Appeals To Clubs And Organizations

By WALLACE TRABING

Which will be the first organization to appear on the Spartan Daily "Send-a-Daily-to-Camp" contributors' honor column? Starting Monday, a personal appeal will be made to the heads of San Jose State college clubs and organizations asking that action be taken toward contributions for the campaign.

In order that the students of the college may recognize these organizations, a contributors' honor column will appear daily in the paper displaying the names in numerical order.

Realizing that all of the eighty-seven organizations cannot be contacted at once, and that the first organization that may appear on the honor list might be one that had to be prompted, the Spartan Daily suggests that self-action should be taken as soon as possible. It will be a matter of "first give, first to be recognized".

Make the "Contributors' honor column" grow with your contributions. A little amount will make a large difference in "Our" soldiers' daily life.

Library Will Be Open Friday and Saturday

The library will close for Thanksgiving Wednesday at 6 p.m. but will reopen over Friday and Saturday. Library hours on these days will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., announces Miss Joyce Backus, librarian.

All departments will be open but the periodical department, which is to be closed for repairs.

Blue Cards? See Advisors

Students in need of help in solving their "blue card" problems should report to the Personnel office between now and Friday, November 28. Appointments may be made with the appropriate adviser.

It has been arranged for Mr. Sweeney to spend certain hours in the Personnel office for the purpose of counseling lower division students with teacher-training objectives. Other lower division students in the State college may submit their problems to Dr. Elder. Technical students may ask for appointments with Mr. Heath.

Students in the upper division should arrange their appointments with Dr. DeVoss, or with counselors designated by him.

THE WONDER OF WONDERS

A tough job well done—that's the new library. This is the only means we know by which to express our appreciation to those whose responsibility the planning and construction of this all-important addition to our campus has been.

Perhaps the most difficult bit of planning was that of designing a building which would harmonize with its adjacent structure, the administration building and its wings, built many years ago, and still adjustable to the modern improvements which would give its maximum utility and comfort. That has been achieved; the new library is that wonder of wonders, the building, modern in design, which, instead of "sticking out like a sore thumb" fits in with its older sedate neighbors without artistic or architectural argument.

As for convenience, there simply doesn't seem to be anything those in charge have overlooked. The floors are covered with thick sponge rubber for quietness, the stairs are wide enough to take care of any conceivable traffic congestion, the stackrooms have facilities for all the books in the present collection and those which will be added over a long period of time, and there is an automatic self-operating plant which controls temperature and moisture of the air for the entire building.

This last is most impressive. We had the exciting experience of being shown the machinery, which is housed in the green-topped penthouse on the Library roof. It's tremendous. Air sent in through one chute or pipe is whirled into a series of propellers which heat or cool it, depending on which is needed (the machine takes its temperature, then automatically gives it the proper treatment), then sent through a coil which removes or adds moisture, again according to which is needed.

And so, many thanks to all those who have helped to do this tough job—to name a few, William Manhart of the State Department of Architecture; Carl A. Swenson & Company; R. J. Bennett, State Inspector; Miss Joyce R. J. Bennett, State Inspector; Miss Joyce Backus, head Librarian; and any others whom we hope we have not forgotten.

BORROWED GOODS (?)

All those who attended admitted that the Fresno football dance last Friday was a success. The gymnasium was packed, the orchestra pleasing, and the decorations novel. But that's where the rub comes. For one of the local department stores loaned the school 25 large artificial flowers to use as decorations, with the stipulation that the flowers all be returned in good condition.

Only eight were returned.

Evidently during the course of the evening someone with a misplaced sense of responsibility walked off with the flowers.

Naturally the college expects to pay for the pilfered decorations. However, in this instance the payment is only secondary. The good will and spirit of cooperation is of prime importance.

For some time now the Spartan Daily has been trying to establish a bond between the students and the merchants. A department store cooperated and generously loaned some of their equipment. Now it is gone, and with it no doubt, some of that friendly atmosphere that was so carefully cultivated.

If any of you has a flower, please return it and let's see what we can do to restore the lost good will. Just leave it in the Daily office. Thanks.

JUST AMONG OURSELVES

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE
President San Jose State College

I warn you that this won't make very good reading class time. It's mostly housekeeping again.

I am not sure that our college doctors should be upon to treat deliberate injuries; for instance, injuries upon neophytes by their new found "brothers." We have getting some of them again lately. We seem to have pleasure in pounding human flesh.

We had that pretty well stopped. I thought, some years ago, but it seems to have started again. Our public opinion is very much against that sort of thing. (Did you ever look at the face of one of those fellows when he was pounding his "brother"? It's not a pleasant sight.)

Still, we'd rather have you bring your victims to the health service than make them get along without expert treatment. No, don't be afraid to bring them, you know. We won't do anything to you.

And this class discipline is all of the same stripe, don't need it at San Jose. We've been getting along with it now for many years and quite well, thank you.

I wonder if you couldn't your feet off the walls in St. Mary's following.

DON GAME

To beat the University of San Francisco Dons Saturday afternoon, the Spartans will have to have every one in A-1 shape and play better ball than they have played at any time this season.

With the cancellation of the Moffett Field game by the Dons last week, Coach JEFF CRAVATH has an additional week in which to prepare for the Spartans.

The statement released to the papers by the Dons for the cancellation was that Kezar stadium would be in bad condition for the St. Mary's-Santa Clara tilt on the following day.

OUT OF THE FOG

The Spartans might have been tied by Fresno last week, but they ended their third straight year without a single conference loss. That was the first time San Jose has been held scoreless since the Texas A. & I. game in September of 1940.

The official statistics of Friday's game show that Fresno made a net of 131 yards through passes and running plays — the SAME amount as the Spartans. The Bulldogs picked up 128 yards on the ground and 3 through the air, while San Jose rolled up 124 on the ground and/or passes.

Other facts about this year's football team show that the three ties already played this season is the highest number of draws since 1934, when Sparta was held to four even games.

The 20 points run up by Nevada two weeks ago is the highest number of points an opponent has scored since November 3, 1937, when the Sugar Bowl team of the University of Santa Clara dumped the Spartan sophomores of the undefeated 1939 team 25 to 2.

MORE TROUBLE FOR SPARTA

Up to November 14, Willamette University of Salem, Oregon, the Spartans' second foe in Hawaii, was leading the nation in total offense with a 430.0-yard average per game from rushes and passes, according to figures released by the American football statistical bureau.

The Bearcats have scored a total of 274 points against 47 for their opponents in winning seven out of their eight games played thus far.

WOFF WOFF IS BACK

Back on the campus auditing a new math classes is JOHN WOFFINGTON. "Woff Woff", hero of the Santa Barbara basketball series last year, and who played in the first football game this season, being called by the Navy Air Corps, will be in San Jose for about two or three months prior to leaving for Colorado and a bombardier squadron.

While the second and third stringers were scrimmaging yesterday afternoon, the first unit had a little touch-tackle game of their own with the backs playing against the linemen. Who won? Why? The linemen, by a score of 18 to 0. Center Charlie Cook scored all three touchdowns.

Frosh Cross-Country Runners Invade Farm This Afternoon For Meet With Indian Yearlings; Squad Looks Good

By CHARLES COOK

Armed with a potentially great frosh cross-country team Coach Bud Winter will storm the tepee of the Stanford Papoose today in an effort to garner a victory in the first meet of the current season.

Originally scheduled as a combination varsity-freshman encounter the varsity half of the meet had to be cancelled because of a trip to Oregon being made this week by the Stanford varsity.

Led by widely-heralded Dick Gray, the Stanford yearlings will be out to pin back the ears of the Spartan freshmen. According to Coach Winter, Gray is a fine prospect and it will take a fast pace to beat him.

YEARLINGS TOUGH

Leading the San Jose frosh will be Bob Ingram, ex-high school mile champ; Tony Piazza, Thelmo Knowles, Guido Teresi, and Al Toth. If times in recent workouts are any criteria, these boys should give the Stanford quintet all it can handle.

Lending the meet added color is the fact that next spring each of these men, as members of the track squad, will face the Indian five on the cinder paths.

MODESTO NEXT

Next week both the varsity and frosh barriers will trek to Modesto Junior college to engage the Pirate runners.

The Stanford-San Jose meet today will start at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Spartans Still Maintain Edge Over Opponent

The Spartan gridders still dominate their opponents in all fields. Despite the fact that Fresno State outgained them slightly, the Spartans still maintain almost a 2-1 advantage in total yards.

STATERS ROLL

The Spartans in nine games have rolled 2294 yards while holding the opponents to 1473. On the ground the Golden Raiders have made 1553 yards and through the air 519. The opponents have a better average through the air than on the ground against the San Jose gridders, but the Spartans still rank among the top in pass defense, holding down the sixth spot in the nation last week.

One notable change finds the Spartan punting average rising to .4 above that of the opponent for the first time this year. The Spartan punters have averaged 37.7 while the enemy punters have averaged 37.3.

PASS DEFENSE

The Spartan fullbacks have tossed 140 passes this year, completing 54 for an average of 39 per cent, while the opponents have been held to 29 completions out of 103 attempted passes for a percentage of 28. The Staters have intercepted 20 of the opponents' tosses, while the enemy has only been able to snag 15 of the Spartans' passes.

The Spartans hold a better than 2-1 advantage in first downs, making 105 to the opponents' 52.

Antognani, Carter Return As Team Opens USF Drills

With two of the four injured Spartans of last week donning practice togs yesterday afternoon, Coach Ben Winkelman sent his varsity football squad through the first of six days of drilling for the University of San Francisco game Saturday afternoon in the Bay City.

Those turning out for the workout were left halfback Stu Carter and quarterback Henry Antognani; however, both did not do any contact work. Still missing were center Wilbur Wool and fullback Fred Lindsey. Wool has been out for the past six weeks with a broken ankle. It is probable he will be out for the rest of the season.

Lindsey has been out of the lineup for the past two games because of torn muscles in his right leg. Team physician Jack Vogelmann said last night that Lindsey might play Saturday if his injury continues to improve.

Believing that the only way to beat the Dons Saturday is not by trying to bottle up their attack, but to outscore them, Winkelman sent the Spartans through a session of signal drills and scrimmage which included several new pass-plays.

The Dons thus far this season have been weak on pass defense, allowing Santa Clara, St. Mary's and Stanford to penetrate the air for their wins over USF.

That is what the Spartan Mentor is banking on and will continue to drill his team on pass-plays every day this week.

POLOISTS CLOSE SEASON TODAY AGAINST STRONG STANFORD SEPTET; YEARLINGS IN PRELIM

By WILBUR AGEE

Coach Charley Walker's varsity and freshman water polo teams will close their season this afternoon against the strong Stanford University septets in the Farm pool.

The freshmen will meet the Indian yearlings in the opener at 3 o'clock and the varsity will take to the pool one hour later to battle the strong Indian varsity.

In their opening encounter this year in the local pool the Indians took the measure of the Spartans by a 10-5 count, outplaying the tired Spartans in the second half. The Staters held them fairly even in the first half and neither team scored in the third quarter.

NUMBER FIVE

The Spartan poloists will be after victory number five this afternoon and could take it if they play the way they did against the California septet in Berkeley, states Coach Walker. So far this season the State septet has dropped three games—bowing to the Indians, California, and the Indian Junior varsity.

The lineup for today's battle will find Marty Taylor in the center forward spot, Douglas Bacon and Delmar Armstrong at forwards, Al Corcoran at center back, Egon Hoffman and Dave Thomsen at guards, and Dan Meehan at goalie.

Marty Taylor and Cecil Dumbalian were elected to captain the two teams this year. Taylor will head the varsity, and Dumbalian will pilot the frosh.

The freshman poloists will be seeking victory number three, having to beat only the local high school septet in both games. In their previous game with the Indian yearlings they were dropped 7-4, but not until they had given the Papooses a scare.

GAVE SCARE

The frosh took an early lead and at half time held the Farm Yearlings even. However, they were playing against some of the better

State Kickers To Meet San Mateo Saturday, Nov. 29

San Jose State's league-leading soccer team will end this week's practice tomorrow afternoon and will not return to practice until Monday afternoon.

The game, originally scheduled with Cal Aggies this week, was forfeited by the Davis team, and the Spartans will not play until the following Saturday, when they face San Mateo Junior college in San Mateo.

The Junior college kickers handed California its only defeat this year and held the Stanford university team to a tie Saturday, to put the State soccer men in the lead.

The kickers will face San Francisco in their final game on the local field Saturday, December 6. Of the two remaining games, the San Mateo classic next week will probably decide the title race with the Junior college kickers given a slight chance.

ex-high school swimmers on the coast and couldn't keep up with them in the final half.

The probable starting lineup will find Frank Goulette in the center forward spot, Bob Booth and Jack Van Housen in the forward positions, Cecil Dumbalian at center back, John Finger and Robert Hepler at guards and lanky Dick Anderson at goalie.

Members of KSJS, radio speaking society, will broadcast the famous short story, "The Necklace," over KQW tonight at 9:15.

The presentation is a dramatization of the Guy DeMaupassant creation by Keith Bickford. The classic short story has been changed from the scene of 1870 Paris to modern America. A thoroughly modernistic interpretation has been provided for the dramatization.

Bickford will also direct the show and play the masculine lead of Martin. Lois Ijams will play the feminine lead, Lily, Martin's wife; Alice Modry enacts Mrs. Forrest; and John Shepherd is the jeweler. Frank Valenti will narrate the broadcast, and Fred Ruig of KQW is named as production manager.

"The Necklace" is the fourth broadcast given by KSJS over the Story Hour series every Tuesday night at 9:15. "A Blaze of Glory" by Johnson Mosher was presented last Tuesday.

Four participants from USF, SF, College for Women, College of Holy Names, and St. Mary's will be the other schools represented.

Rally Committee Plans Buses For Game Saturday

Tentative plans are under way for chartering buses for the University of San Francisco-San Jose State game.

All those who plan to make the trip are asked to sign up in the Controller's office on or before Wednesday noon.

It is imperative that those students who are even contemplating the trip should sign up as soon as possible, according to Dick Payne, Rally committee head.

The price will be $1.25 for a round trip. Buses will leave at about 11 o'clock, and will return the students to the campus as soon as the game is over.

Librarians Attend Meeting In Fresno

Several of the college librarians attended a meeting of the California School association in Fresno, composed of members of California school libraries. Those attending were Miss Doris Smith, Miss Unus Speer, Miss Helen Bullock, and Miss Joyce Backus.

The meeting began Saturday noon and ended with a breakfast session Sunday morning.

"We all had an enjoyable time," said Miss Backus.

Women Physical Education Majors Plan Laboratory Period For Winter

Plans to initiate a women's physical education majors' laboratory period for the winter quarter were discussed at a dinner meeting of the faculty and majors' cabinet Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Gail Tucker.

The period, if adopted, would introduce a more competitive element in sports by providing a practice session for the majors, states June Bennett, student representative in charge. "There is too much theory and too little chance for exercising it with the present set-up," Miss Bennett declared.

Under a new system which would allow the students a two-hour "action" period, tournaments could be held which would provide an opportunity for physical education majors to practice and display their skill.

Dr. Irene Palmer is faculty representative who will work with Miss Bennett in trying to get the laboratory session introduced as a requirement for women physical education majors.

Claude Settles To Be Featured Speaker At Asilomar Rally

Claude Settles of the Social Science department will be the featured speaker of the Asilomar rally tonight at 7:30 in the Student Center. He will speak on the subject "What Conferences Do to People".

Mary Ellen Emig will relate the history of the conference, and Len Brennen, co-chairman of the conference, will describe the program to be presented this year. Skits depicting various conference events will be presented by delegates to previous conferences.

Co-chairmen of the rally are Betty Grass and Sam Zones. Games and country dancing will comprise the entertainment.

College Y.M.C.A. To Hold Dinner Tonight

The college YMCA will have a dinner at 5:45 p.m. in the Student Center today instead of the regular Wednesday meeting. The dinner will be with the YWCA women, and there will be a charge of ten cents.

After the dinner the groups will attend the Asilomar rally.

The Freshman club will meet tomorrow noon instead of Thursday because of the holiday, announced Marty Miller, president.

DR. H. T. JENSEN INTRODUCED AS NEW C.S.T.A. HEAD

Dr. E. H. Staffebach, head of the Education department, introduced Dr. H. T. Jensen as the new sponsor of the California Student Teachers' associations, San Jose chapter, when they met last night.

Dr. Jensen explained what the CSTA does in the way of helping student teachers, and pointed out that this is not a social organization but rather provides an opportunity for future teachers to talk over the advantages and disadvantages of the professional world.

Dr. Raymond Mosher, psychology instructor, spoke on the advantages of belonging to the CSTA. One of the most important reasons he gave was that of the professional affiliation it gives the student upon graduation from college. If the student is a member of the CSTA while in college, he automatically becomes a member of the California Teachers' association and is entitled to all that it can offer in the way of better positions.

Home Ec. building when you are waiting your turn at the cafeteria. We had those walls painted only this past summer, and it cost a lot of money. Yes, I know, the paint was rather dainty, but those Home Ecs. are dainty people. They want things nice.

Perhaps some girl was talking to you at the time and you didn't know what you were doing. Come to think of it, this may be a responsibility for the girls. Just say to him, "Listen, stupid, you don't rate a footprint around here. Who do you think you are?" (Can you talk like that, girls? I doubt if anything less will do the trick.)

Still, I don't feel as cross as all of this may sound. We are really doing rather well with our house-keeping. Only a few of us are still careless about cigarette stubs. Most of us seem to want neat doorways, neat quads, neat rooms. I appreciate no end the forbearance you have shown me in trying to humor my fussiness. Many, many thanks.
